My second email.

AOL is complaining about Microsoft giving their product away.

In reviewing the Sunday morning paper, I notice so many adds in which retailers are giving products away, such as:

- 1) Buy one, get one free.
- 2) Buy one, get two free

There are all kinds of ads like the above.
This includes companies as McDonald's, Meijer, D&W, HP and many other companies.

Are we about to eliminate competition?
I hope not.
